Are you near the end of inpatient treatment?

If so, you are invited to join a research study looking at new technology to help people in recovery for alcoholism.

The Center for Health Enhancement Systems Studies (CHESS) at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, in partnership with Fayette Companies in Peoria, IL and CAB Health and Recovery Services in Boston, MA is offering a study for people leaving treatment for alcoholism (and other drug addiction). This study will assess a “virtual recovery” application on a smart phone.

If you join, you will:

- Receive either a smart phone with Alcohol CHESS (A•CHESS) recovery services to use for 8 months, or receive a gift card worth $20.00.
- Know that your participation may help others in recovery from alcohol addiction.

Who can join this research study?

Anyone who:

- Has completed treatment for alcohol addiction
- Is 18 or older
- Can read and write English

What if I want to learn more or join the study?

Talk with the staff at your treatment center a week or more BEFORE you complete your treatment.
